New Issues Are Now Confronting New Deal Leaders

Administration Leaders Are Seeking To Avoid New Controversies

MAY ADJOURN BY MIDDLE OF MAY

Plan Of Huge Pump-priming Is Meeting With Opposition In Congress

By WILLIAM S. SEAL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The new deal leadership in congress, having tasted bitter defeat in the house on reorganization and having seen prized tax policies scrapped in the senate, today was confronted by new and fiercely-contested issues.

Further clashes in the closing days of the session appeared inevitable even though party leaders indicated in eagerness to avoid controversial legislation and speed adjournment by May 15.

Storm Warnings

President Roosevelt's recovery and relief program, embracing a potential outlay of $4,500,000,000, already has provoked storm warnings of a new split in the huge Democratic congressional majority and caused the president to hold a White House conference today.

Besides the senate and house majority leaders, he called in the ranking Democrats on the senate and house appropriations committee.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Mrs. James M. Hughes of the old Pittsburgh road saw a most unusual sight last week, when the rearing waves caused a flock of cedar waxwings to feed on the berries of a mountain ash tree in her yard.

One of the noticeable traits of those birds is the way they wander in flocks, as they seem to have a dread of being separated, and as they sit in the branches of a tree they put out in mind of a group of worshippers in silent communion.

Two detours are encountered near the city by persons coming in from Ohio on Route 422. At the Harbor when the route towards the Pulaski road is used, the detour starts near the Harbor bridge and follows the gravel road into Sampson street.

Out east of the city Wolfe creek and the Slippery Rock creek were at quite a high stage yesterday, overflowing the banks into the lowlands.

Fishermen are watching weather conditions with a wary eye these days. With the trout season opening Friday, they are hopeful that near flood conditions do not prevail on the trout streams.

Due to the snow, rain and freeze traffic conditions on many of the highways in this district were such over the week and that driving crews had to go to work again.

Apparently the curfew whistle is blowing again in New Castle. One lone blast was heard last night at eight o'clock.

Mexico Refuses To Return British Plants

(International News Service) MEXICO CITY, April 11.—Britain today had a flat "no," delivered in record time, to her demand that expropriated British oil plants be returned to their former owners.

Simultaneously deals involving millions of dollars, by which two American concerns will get American oil and asphalt were announced.

The Mexican government contracted to ship about 25,000 barrels of oil daily through William R. Davis of New York City, and H. A. Stendrup & Co. of New York arranged to buy 3000 metric tons of asphalt.

Davis, who is said to be acting for German and English interests, has already placed large credits in the Bank of Mexico.

He will place a fleet of 17 tankers in the Mexico-European service, and will supply the Mexican government with a pipe line costing a million dollars. Payment will be made in oil.

In his reply to Britain, whose protest was received only last Friday, President Lázaro Cárdenas stood pat on the contention that Mexico, in taking over the properties, acted within its sovereign rights.

Further clashes in the closing days of the session appeared inevitable even though party leaders indicated in eagerness to avoid controversial legislation and speed adjournment by May 15.

Whitney Is Given 5-10 Year Prison Term

(International News Service) NEW YORK, April 11.—Standing before the bar of justice with his arms folded behind his back and a glum expression on his face, Richard Whitney, five-time president of the New York Stock exchange and former head of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Richard Whitney & Co., today was sentenced to from five to ten years in prison for embezzlement and misuse of funds.

Judge Owen W. Bohan sentenced Whitney to five to ten years on each of two indictments, but ruled the sentences were to be served concurrently.

Taken To Tomb

Whitney gulped and his eyes blinked as the judge pronounced sentence. Less than a minute afterward he was hustled by guards out the back way of the courtroom to a rear exit and taken over the "Bridge of Sighs" to the tomb.

Preparations were immediately made to take the prisoner to Sing Sing.

President Calls On Congress To Aid Railroads

Special Message Is Transmitted To Congress This Afternoon

RECOMMENDATIONS OF I. C. C. ARE GIVEN

President Against Government Subsidies Or Control And Operation

By GEORGE DUBNO, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Warning that a large number of railroads are on the verge of "serious bankruptcies," President Roosevelt today called upon congress to come to their aid.

In a special message, the president transmitted the report of Interstate Commerce Commissioners W. M. W. Spaulding, Joseph Eastman, and Charles McHaffie, which recommended the following means of immediate relief for the stricken industry:

Commissioners Recommendations

1. A $300,000,000 federal loan for purchase of railroad equipment, the equipment to stand as security.

2. Empowerment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans for the next 12 months without certification by the I. C. C. that the applying roads can meet their fixed charges.

3. Consideration of other forms of government credit "from the point of view of public policy."

4. Elimination of land grant reductions so government traffic in the future will pay full rates.

5. Creation of a single court in charge of reorganizations, this to be done through revision of Section 77B of the bankruptcy act.

Mr. Roosevelt reported that the I. C. C. "does not feel justified in expressing an opinion for or against reduction of railroad wages," thus leaving that棘手 problem up to congress.

The president expressed "definite objection" to either government subsidies for the roads or government ownership and operation.

Long Term Approach

As a long-term approach, the Spaulding report suggested:

1. Creation of a federal transportation authority for two years to plan and promote "consolidations, coordination and elimination of waste."

2. Broadening of the powers of the I. C. C. with respect to pooling (Continued On Page Two)

Republic Will Appeal Decision

Willing However To Rehire Strikers

Girdler Denies Company Responsible For Strike As Charged By N. L. R. B.

SAYS COURT'S WILL HAVE TO DECIDE

CLAVILLAND, April 11.—The National Labor Relations Board decision finding Republic Steel Corporation guilty of violation of the Wagner act during the last summer's strike will be appealed in the courts, although the company is willing to rehire strikers "who were not guilty of violence or illegal acts," board chairman Tom M. Girdler said today.

"We are convinced the board's decision is wrong," a statement issued by Girdler said. "The courts will have to decide the question."

Ready To Rehire

In reply to the board's order that the strikers be rehired, the Girdler statement said:

"The company has always advocated the reinstatement of men who were not guilty of violence or illegal acts. It is ready to rehire strikers who were not guilty of violence or illegal acts."

capture of Balaguer last Thursday Madrid admitted its loss for the first time today.

Large Scale Air Raids

In a resumption of large-scale air raids on the east coast, a squadron of insurgent planes attacked Valencia today, and damaged two ships in the harbor.

Loyalists shot down an Italian Savoia plane on the east front, and a Loyalist seaborne unit landed near Valencia.

The insurgents opened up a new front southwest of Teruel, in an effort to reach the coast. Highway General Jose Varela led a minor advance but he was still more than 50 miles from his objective.

The scene of fierce fighting south of Teruel, where the Loyalists pushed back the insurgents, was forced to fall back at Caracul.

Reinforced by the Loyalists came in air raids on Talavera De La Reina and Puente Del Azobispo. A large number of Moslems were killed and 100 taken prisoner by the Loyalists in the same sector.

Tortosa Still Holds Out

Barcelona, April 11.—Tortosa, a city of 10,000 people in the dark ages and a city whose womenfolk had cut-throat attackers in the 12th century, is still holding out stubbornly against Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgents, a Loyalist communiqué declared today.

The city, which controls the Valencia-Barcelona highway, has been almost totally destroyed by aerial bombs and insurgent shell fire, the communiqué declared, but the defenders are still holding firm.

Hardly a house or building in the city remains capable of repair, the communiqué said. Uprooted trees and smashed automobiles and trolley cars are blocking the streets, but the main bridge leading into the town is still standing.

Despite repeated aerial attacks, Tortosa's communication facilities have remained undamaged and reports received from the Loyalist commander there have served to encourage Barcelona in its own defense.

WOUND FATAL TO CAPT. SMITH

cers D. J. Thomas and Jack Thompson, with State Motor Policemen Gibbons, went to the scene. An ambulance was called and he was rushed to the hospital, but his condition was such that nothing could be done to save his life.

Coroner Charles Piper Bruns, who investigated, returned a verdict of suicide.

Capt. Smith came here in 1929 from Scotland, and was golf pro at the New Castle Field Club for about 12 years. Later serving as pro at the Castle Hills course for a year, and for the past two years has been manager and pro at the Sylvan Heights course, operated by the city.

Resided Here 16 Years

Mr. Smith was born in Scotland March 17, 1886. He had resided in New Castle for the past 16 years and was a member of the Masons, the Moose and U. C. T.

His wife, Elizabeth Melroy Smith, to whom he had been married 27 years, one son, James A. Smith, and two daughters, Mrs. Paul Mauger and Mrs. James Shelly, all of this city, his mother, four brothers and three sisters in Scotland, survive.

WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and acting director of the budget D. W. Bell.

In addition, a powerful liberal drive was opened for enactment of wage-hour legislation, generally regarded as impossible. The new deal also faced choice of surrender or a battle over retention of the principle of its 1936 tax policies.

Lending Program

Congress has already empowered the RFC to embark on a huge lending program. The administration is expected to seek a $1,500,000,000 PWA program and enough money for relief to carry the load until Congress returns next January.

The relief and recovery program will speed toward a showdown with a house appropriations sub-committee tentatively scheduled to open hearings on the relief program April 18.

Senator Byrd (D) of Virginia, advocate of economy, and other foes of many new deal experiments, planned to turn their eyes on a new spending and "pump-priming" program on the ground that the nation's credit may be impeded and private industry slowed.

While Rep. Woodrum (D) of Virginia, predicted that congress would appropriate approximately $2,000,000,000 for relief, the amount being spent this year, President Roosevelt was said to have decided to ask a lesser amount.

Raise Relief Estimate

The administration plan was to raise its tentative $1,000,000,000 estimate to $1,500,000,000, or $1,500,000,000, an amount designed to carry relief through until Congress returns again in January.

To seek a $2,000,000,000 fund for the entire year would be admission that business will not improve, Mr. Roosevelt wants to avoid such an admission, they said.

A battle to earmark relief funds was forecast as a result of the upsurge in congress against new deal leadership.

"I think every dollar to be spent will be earmarked by congress," said Rep. Taber (R) of New York. "The era of issuing blank checks is over."

"The relief and spending programs will face opposition. Relief funds can be cut down if the job is done honestly and efficiently. The suggested PWA program of loans without interest to cities means that a subsidy of more than $2,000,000,000 in interest will be loaded on the backs of the people in the future."

NEW YORK, April 11.—Richard Whitney, sentenced today to five to ten years in prison will have to serve at least three years and four months of that term before he may be released.

HOUSING AUTHORITY ACTION IS ASKED

Dale Glessner headed a committee this morning which appeared before council and requested the city to take some legislative action toward securing a housing authority for the city.

Following the suggestion of Mayor Charles E. McGrath, a proposed ordinance, a replica of that passed in Pittsburgh, was not presented until council discusses the matter with state housing authorities here on Thursday.

Leave Home Near Covert's Station By Means Of Boat

It was either take to the boat or swim for members of the H. L. Shaffer family of the vicinity of Covert's Station road during the week-end, but as there was a lot of water between their home and the main road, they chose the boat.

Water from the nearby river was so high late Friday, Saturday and Sunday that it was impossible to get any closer than a mile from the Shaffer home. The water covered a great deal of the Covert Station road, making travel impossible by automobile.

Shaffer and his family put into a row boat in order to get from their home to the road and into town.

By this morning the water had receded considerably and the Shaffers were again able to drive to their home.

The water which overflowed the Covert's Station road, a short distance from West Washington street extension, did considerable damage to the surface, as it washed big holes and a good deal of the earth off of the road.

3. Investigation by the authority of economy and all types of transportation with a view of encouraging special fitness and abating destructive competition.

4. Consideration of "railroad financial abuses now under investigation."

"It is true that a general upturn in business would undoubtedly help to keep many railroads from actual receivership," the president advised congress. "But it is also true that resumption of traffic at last year's level would not solve their growing difficulties permanently."

The president suggested "from the point of view of business efficiency" that all of the federal agencies dealing with transportation be placed under a single department—he mentioned commerce or interior—with all quasi-judicial and quasi-legislative matters placed under "a reorganized interstate commerce commission."

"And such action would be highly constitutional," the president added.

Such a step will not be needed, it was believed in governmental circles. The speed with which Daladier formed his cabinet of only 19 members, the smallest since the World war, and its strong make-up are said to have over-awed both sides in the labor struggle.

Nevertheless Paris was disturbed today by reports that the metallurgical industries strike may spread into a general strike.

FAITH

WHY HIGH COST OF LIVING?

The annual report of the American Rolling Mill Company for 1937 shows that the consolidated tax bill for the parent company and subsidiaries has nearly tripled in the past two years. Calvin Verity, executive vice president disclosed today. The total outlay for taxes for the year 1937 reached an all-time record high of $3,442,609, as compared with $2,514,629 for 1936 and $1,275,421 for 1935, he said. Nineteen thirty-seven taxes represent an increase of 36.9 per cent over 1936 and 188.8 per cent over 1935.

And still, with this increase in taxes, metal caskets and vaults are no longer today than they were in 1935. There is not much danger of this company having a surplus in a year or two.

SIMONS-BLAKELY MRS. LOUISA ZUBER
WEDDING SATURDAY HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

The first Baptist church, was the scene of a most impressive wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon, when Miss Debrah Ruth Simons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Simons, and Miss Louise Zuber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Blakely, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends of the couple. The Rev. C. H. Mead officiated.

The bride was attired in an aqua street-length dress with Parisian accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of Tahiti roses. As her only attendant, Miss Olive Fern Sanford wore a lavender gown, with accompanying bridesmaids in mauve green. Her shoulder bouquet was also of Tahiti roses.

Jack Smith served the groom as best man.

Adding further to the impressiveness of the occasion, Garth Edmondson, organist, contributed a program of appropriate piano music throughout the ceremony.

Supplementing the event, a wedding dinner at 6:30 o'clock and a reception was held at the bride's home. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the bridal table. Several individual tables accommodating the remaining guests were arranged with a white tablecloth in a star-shaped holder. In formal attire, the B. and B. club girls served the menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Blakely left later in the evening for a short wedding trip, and after April 15, will be "at home" to friends in Elmwood avenue.

Out of town guests present, included Mr. Blakely's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Cleveland, O.

Fraternity International Reunion Held At Castleton

"Informality" was the theme of a most successful and interesting event, the international reunion of the Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity, which took place Saturday afternoon, April 9, in The Castleton Hotel. The occasion was in the nature of an all day event, with registrations being taken at 10:30 o'clock in the morning with other festivities lasting throughout until a late hour.

In spite of the inclement weather, it didn't dampen the spirits of those present, and the committees in charge feel amply rewarded for their efforts, with such a splendid representation. Mrs. Ruth Crowl was state chairman, and guest speaker, was Mrs. Ruth Caldwell Wright of New York City, national inspector of Alpha Gamma Delta. Miss Marjorie Rhodes, presided as toastmistress in a most capable manner. Each received a lovely shoulder corsage, and Mrs. Crowl was given a special gift in behalf of the organization.

At 1:30 o'clock, luncheon, was served in the spacious dining room, to guests numbering fifty. Chapters represented included Alpha Epsilon Alpha Delta, Kappa Alpha Beta and Sigma. The program opened by the chanting of grace, with Mrs. Robert J. Trotter, of Monaca, leading.

Speakers heard at this time, were Mrs. R. J. Robinson who had for her subject, "Why Fraternity Education?" This Alpha Gamma Delta was given by Mrs. Zeva Haible and "The Executive Council" was related by Miss Charlotte Bartlett.

Mrs. Ruth Caldwell Wright, guest speaker, gave an especially interesting talk on "Extension Program". She stressed several outstanding phases, concerning Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity. "How members are benefited by the chapter, and how the chapter is benefited by its members" was the theme of her address.

At 4:30 o'clock, formal initiation of pledges took place, at impressive ceremonies. Those initiated were: Lesh Davis of this city; Ruth Myer of New Wilmington and New Castle; Jean Beighley of Zelienople; Kathryn Wilson, of Meadville; Marjorie Ramsey, of Meadville; Mildred Leopold, Inez Hawthorne, Jane Blythe, Betty Mellors, Roberta Evans and Marie Kerr.

The banquet was in progress at 6:45 o'clock in the crystal ballroom of the hotel, the tables being colorfully arranged for eighty, in the chapter colors. Large replicas of red, buff and green adorned the center, and the guest speakers table, hoisted upon a platform, was graced with

"We Tobacco Planters smoke Camels"

"We Tobacco Planters smoke Camels"

THE CAMEL BUYERS BOUGHT THE BEST LOTS OF MY LAST CROP. THEY TOOK JUST ABOUT EVERY TOP GRADE LOT AT ALL THE SALES I WENT TO. I PREFER CAMELS FOR MY OWN SMOKING. I KNOW THERE'S FINER TOBACCO IN THEM. YOU'LL FIND THAT MOST OTHER PLANTERS PREFER CAMELS, TOO

Henderson Carroll has been growing tobacco for 18 years, knows it from the ground up

MEN like Mr. Carroll, with a lifetime's experience in growing tobacco, don't smoke "just any cigarette." They know that one cigarette—Camel—is made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO. So it means a lot when they say that most smokers who grow tobacco smoke Camels themselves. Make Camel, the cigarette of these experienced tobacco planters, your cigarette too.

"WE SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE WE KNOW TOBACCO"

TOBACCO PLANTERS SAY

A "SLIGHT COLD" YESTERDAY

TODAY...

He was around and about yesterday. Not feeling so bad. Just a bit groggy and headachy. It wasn't anything to worry about. He'd be all right in a day or two.

But today...! Today he's a "grave case." That's the history of many a "common cold." It starts as something "light," but before you know it, it has turned into something else.

Authorities Say A Cold Is An Internal Infection!

If there is anything that demands prompt and intelligent attention, it is the "common cold."

A cold, authorities say, is an internal infection. It's an infection within your system caused by a virus or imperceptible germ.

A cold, therefore, calls for internal treatment.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are effective treatment for a cold—for several definite reasons. In the first place, they're a cold treatment and not a cure-all. They're made expressly for colds and for nothing else.

Secondly, they do four important things for relief.

Four Important Effects

1. They open the bowels, an admittedly important step in treating a cold.
2. They help check the infection in the system.
3. They relieve the headache and fever due to colds.
4. They help tone the system and throw off the effects of the cold.

This is the fourfold effect you want.

The Stand-by of Millions

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets have been in use for over 40 years and are the world's largest-selling cold tablet.

They are the stand-by of millions, a fact that proves them safe as well as effective.

When you've got a cold, do the wise thing—take Bromo Quinine tablets.

These famous tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. You can get them at any drug store.

Ask for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) and resent a substitute.

Recalls Motor Trip In Florida Made Years Ago

Took James W. McCord, Over Three Days To Go From Tampa To St. Petersburg

HAS PICTURE OF PIONEER CAR

A motor trip, which today requires only a few hours to make the journey from Tampa to St. Petersburg, took three and a half days, 31 years ago, James W. McCord, of R. P. D. No. 6, recalls, and was a real adventure.

Mr. McCord, who will return in two weeks from a vacation trip to Florida, remembers the trip which was made in a four-wheeled pioneer car, a picture of which he retains as a cherished memento of the occasion.

The only roads Mr. McCord could use in those days were logging trails that rambled through the woods. There was no bridge across the water then, and the party had to go around the head of Tampa bay.

With Mr. McCord on that occasion was Dr. F. A. Davis, who built the first trolley line in St. Petersburg, Mrs. Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Mitchell.

Recently, Mr. McCord tried to retrace the trail from Tampa to St. Petersburg, but the countryside has changed so much, there was little he could remember. However, he made the trip in less than two hours.

Recreation Class Gives Program At West Pittsburg

Large Crowd Attends Event At School House—Excellent Performance

The West Pittsburg school house was all aglow and each light held a share of excitement as the students of the newly formed West Pittsburg recreation center class held an interesting program in recognition of their talents for their parents and friends, Friday night. Many eager persons were turned away from the entrance as there was not room for all those wishing to view the spectacle.

The entertainment began promptly at seven thirty and progressed as follows: Songs by the three Macos sisters, who were attired in striking green blouses and contrasting red ties; piano duet, "The College Pep March" by Lillie Allen and Lillian East; tap dancing by Bannings Caraniti, song by Angeline Papa; and clever drawing with the use of a heavy pencil and art board by Albert La-tona.

Mouth organ solo by Augustine Attison; "Mexicali Rose" guitar song by Ralph Ascent; "Bobolink Song" by Virginia Papa and Mary Atkinson; songs by Mary Ascent and Alpa Trochil; drawing by Frances Shultz; mouth organ solo by Mike Marso followed by car wheel spins by Rose Beres; song "Vieni, Vieni" sung in Italian and English by Marie Carangi and Helen Chur-an; tap dancing by Gloria Marso, which was followed by songs with guitar accompaniment by the Ascent brothers.

Helen Schultz aged nine, entertained the guests with her display of clay models which consisted of turtles, Dopey, cowboy on a horse, men with canes, and many others which have won her renown in the class even though she is so young; Lillian Carangi sang a poem and a song; Christina and Angeline Papa sang songs with great harmony; mouth organ duet by Augustine Attison and Mike Marso; song by Louise Butera; tap dancing by Richard Adams and stunt performing by Anna Panchia; song "Some of These Days" song by Helen Fal-lato; a one act playlet by eight girls of the class demonstrated some of their acting ability, and the conclusion was the song Tipi Tipi "Tipi" sung by Mary Tannarrell.

Kemp Builds Plane Replica

Mulberry Street Youth Tests Out Five Foot Plane With Success

Don Kemp of 112 Mulberry street, a high school student, has built a five-foot replica of the seven-foot model "Miss America," a gasoline monoplane of high wing cabin type, covered by a six-inch horse power baby cyclon motor, turning 6000 revolutions per minute. This model is the champion motor of the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany.

It took Don two and a half weeks of his spare time to build this plane. It weighs three and a half pounds, travels at the rate of 30 miles per hour, and landing at a rate of about 10 miles per hour. The plane is started in the same manner as a full sized plane, runs about the ground for about 20 feet, then takes off to the air.

Two successful flight tests of this plane have been made at the New Castle airport. Its motor was timed to run 50 seconds, and the plane attained an altitude of 500 and 750 feet, and remained in the air three and a half to four minutes. The amount of gasoline used was equal to two eye droppers full.

This plane will be entered in the Lions club model aeroplane contest on May 30.

ACCIDENTS

By J. W. NEYMAN, PH. D.

The hundred of thousands of Americans that meet with accidents each year should be a matter of serious thought on the part of every one. According to the report of the National Safety Council there were 106,000 accidental deaths in 1937. The number who were more or less seriously injured were many thousands more. A great many of these accidents were preventable. They prove that there is much carelessness and stupidity on the part of many people. There is great need of more care to prevent accidents. There is need of constant warning against danger.

These accidents are of different kinds. The largest number is caused by traffic accidents. There were 39,000 deaths, 110,000 permanently crippled, and 1,250,000 temporarily disabled in this class of accidents during 1937. This was a large increase over the previous year and set a new high for the deaths of any one year.

In spite of all the efforts that have been made in improved regulations, in the greater care in issuing driver's licenses and in the policing of the highways, accidents have steadily increased. Drunk and careless drivers have caused many accidents. Speeding and reckless driving are fruitful causes of accidents.

People are thoughtfully asking what can be done to lessen this terrible sacrifice of life. But not all the fault is due to the driver. Much of it rests on the carelessness of the pedestrians. Many accidents occur from carelessness of people in running chances in going in the way of moving cars and in not being alert in watching against danger.

The traffic accidents last year have caused a monetary loss of $1,640,000,000.

Without doubt the automobile is one of the greatest inventions of man, but when we think of the great loss of life and property caused by the automobile we almost wish we could go back to the "horse and buggy days."

Accidents in the home caused 32,000 deaths the past year, and permanently crippled 140,000 and temporarily disabled 4,500,000 persons. The monetary loss of these accidents is placed at $900,000,000. It is hard to conceive that within the homes of our land, where life would be best protected, so many accidents could occur. Surely it becomes us to exercise the greatest care to prevent accidents.

Industrial accidents cause 19,000 deaths, permanently cripple 75,000 and temporarily disable 1,550,000 persons and cause a monetary loss of $700,000,000 last year. The workmen should have in industrial offices and factories the safest place possible to work.

In addition to these, there were people. We can be indifferent to the awful loss of life and property, especially since it is on the increase. These accidents are not limited to any special class. They effect not only the victims of the accidents, but they effect every body. This frightful waste of life can and should be reduced.

KETCHIKAN, Alaska—Most cities are bolstered with meeting interest on outstanding obligations. Ketchikan probably is one of the few that collects interest instead of paying it. The city now has $49,300 surplus funds invested in postal savings bonds, school bonds and public utility bonds. In addition the city is a large holder of real estate.

Diamond Jubilee Report For Campaign Sunday

Twelve out of the thirty-five Sunday schools participating in the "Diamond Jubilee" Increase Campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, had their best attendance yesterday, Sunday, April 10th. These Sunday schools were the First U. P., the St. Paul's Lutheran, the Second U. P., the Central Christian, the St. John's Lutheran and the Madison Avenue Christian, in New Castle, and the First Presbyterian, the First M. E., the Bell Memorial Presbyterian, the Trinity Lutheran and the Immanuel Reformed of Ellwood City, and the Edinburg M. E. in the county group.

To date there have been 6,221 diamonds accumulated and the increase campaign will end with a shower of diamonds next Sunday, April 17th, Easter.

The First M. E. held first place in the First group, New Castle, with the Highland U. P. and the First Baptist in second and third places, respectively. The Second U. P. is in first place in the Second group, New Castle, closely pressed by the First U. P. In the third, New Castle, group, the St. Paul's Lutheran, the Mahoning M. E. and the Wesley M. E. are lined up in that order with very little difference between the three. In the Fourth, New Castle, group the Mahoningtown Presbyterian leads with the Reformed Presbyterian and the St. John's Lutheran following with high percentages.

In the Ellwood City group all have high percentages, the First Christian being in the lead with a good margin. Every one of the Ellwood Sunday schools participating had a nice gain yesterday in attendance. In the county group the Mahoning M. E. stays in first place with a high figure, with the New Wilmington M. E. in second place also with a high percentage.

The Second U. P. had the high percentage in church attendance as 88.7% of those attending Sunday school remained for church service. This is a very splendid showing although not quite as high as the 92% of the First U. P. for the previous Sunday. The percentage of church attendance for the other three United Presbyterian Sunday schools for April 10th was as follows: Highland U. P. 88.8%; First U. P. 60% and the Third U. P. 52%.

Here are the standings to date:

The Great Game Of Politics

ing plans are not as important as the direction, but they are worth noting. In effect, it is proposed that the Government "lend" one and one-half billions to cities and states for public works. The money is to be raised through non-interest-bearing bonds and the borrowing units are to have fifty years to repay. This isn't a loan, it's a gift. None of the states which borrowed PWA money four years ago has repaid these "loans," and as Mr. Arthur Klock says, no Treasury official expects to see a dollar of that money. Nor, of course, will they ever see again a dollar of the new "loan." It will be taken, spent, debt increased and the situation will be worse than before. At least that is what our experience would seem to teach us.

CONSIDERING these things—and considering, too, that this money passed out in the middle of a campaign, cannot help having a political flavor—there is firm ground for feeling that the right thing to do is to oppose rather than support the President's scheme—that Congress will be acting wisely if, instead of once more voting a great lump sum into his hands, it resists a return to the spending game, refuses approval of such palpably false campaign funds upon helping business by the simply agreed-upon ways, and insists upon helping business by the President cannot bring himself to accept because they involve admitting mistakes. To support him in a renewal of this kind of unbalanced financial kite flying isn't patriotic—it's stupid. Yet, so keen is the natural desire of Governors and Mayors for funds to relieve local pressure that the offer of a "loan" from the Federal Treasury presents a practically irresistible temptation. It may be approved. Want city or state won't welcome a gift of this kind? What individual wouldn't like to "borrow" money for fifty years without interest and with no real necessity of ever repaying the principal?

full indemnity. The American government itself adopted retaliation, by stopping the purchase of Mexican silver, plunging Mexico into a severe financial crisis that over and over again has been repeated, and arousing a wave of nationalism that may bring a Fascist government to our very doorstep, with possible confiscation of all American properties. Since then, however, the U. S. government has been trying to arrive at a reasonable basis for settlement. These international problems are

WILL PLAY HOST TO THOUSANDS

HARRISBURG, April 11.—Pennsylvania will be host to the nation at Gettysburg this summer, and the State Publicity Commission here is helping to lead out the invitation.

More than half a million guests from every state in the Union are expected to visit Gettysburg during the first week of July to attend the final joint reunion of the Blue and the Gray and to observe the 75th anniversary of the battle.

To inform the public of preparations for this observance, the publicity commission has printed for free distribution 25,000 six-page folders giving the program and explaining its purposes.

Opening June 29 with arrival of the vanguard of the shipped ranks of North and South, the program swiftly gains momentum for the climax of President Roosevelt's address July 3, then ends July 6 with the departure of the last veterans.

Major days of the celebration, according to the program, will be July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Woolway To Enter
Airplane Contest

East Washington Street Youth
Has Made Numerous Flights
—Builds Small Planes

Harold Woolway of 637 East Washington street, a senior at high school, has been building model aeroplanes for five years. For the last five or six years he has spent much of his spare time at the New Castle Airport, and could often be seen peddling his bicycle out in that direction. He has been up in an aeroplane about forty five times, handling the controls twice.

One of the planes Harold will enter in the Lions Aeroplane contest on May 30, is a rubber powered fuselage endurance plane, with three foot wing span, and about thirty inches long. Planes of this type have been known to stay in the air for several hours.

Another will be a soaring plane, which is towed into the air with a hundred foot string, the latter being released after the plane has reached an altitude of one hundred feet, by a jerk on the string. The average flight of these planes is of three or four minutes duration.

One of his other models is a replica of a regular Sunbeam plane, which has a wing span of five feet, and weighs about eight ounces. This plane is powered by twisted rubber bands, and ramps in the air a short time. Still another model is of an army pursuit plane, with wing span of six inches, and having 125 glued parts.

Harold has a very interesting album of pictures taken by himself of aeroplanes, personages and incidents connected therewith in various places. One is of Amelia Earhart's plane, the recent "crack-up" at Casheo, when two young men from this district lost their lives, and a picture of "Bill" Lee of Boyles avenue, standing by his plane at Youngstown, just before he dashed into a burning plane and rescued the pilot.

It begins to appear that the dog owners of the county are taking heed to Dog Law Enforcement Officer Gehring's repeated warnings, and are licensing their dogs. At noon Saturday there had been 7130 dog licenses taken out which means that there are only about 1800 estimated to be without tags yet.

Hunting season always sees an increase in dog license, according to County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland. Hunters in many cases take out licenses, not particularly because they want to follow the dog law out to provide a means of identification in case their hounds get lost.

Even out of state hunters take out Pennsylvania dog licenses as a precaution against the loss of their dogs. Pennsylvania and Ohio have a reciprocal agreement and a dog licensed in Ohio can be brought into Pennsylvania during hunting season and his tag is good.

Officiants requests are received from lay off states asking the reciprocity of certain dog tag numbers. Recently a man in Detroit, Minn., wrote in for such information.

During the next week the treasurer's office will be busy issuing fishing licenses. Trout season commences on April 15, Good Friday, and the licenses of Isaac Walton will be out in force.

This year fishing licenses can be issued by aldermen and justices of the peace which will remove a good portion of the treasurer's work. It will also mean that the fish warden cannot get their lists of licenses as quickly. In past years the treasurer made up a list of licensees and the wardens took them out. In case of violation it was a matter of little time to check the lists against the holder's number and take whatever action was necessary.

One of the court house fishermen who already has his tackle and is out on waiting for trout opening day is Deputy Controller Andrew M. Dodds.

Dodds doesn't claim he is the best fisherman in the state but he modestly asks if anyone knows who is better. On the morning of April 15, as dawn paints a roseate glow atop the eastern hills you will find Andy, out on the Little Neshannock or Taylor Run or wherever he has a hunch the trout will be gathering.

Attend Conference Of Cub Leaders

Training School For Scout Leaders Is Conducted At DuBois Over Week End

ELLWOOD CITY, April 11.—Scout Executive Karl Green of New Castle, and Morrison Bradley and Boyd Barrett of the local scout council attended the training school and conference for cub leaders at DuBois on Saturday afternoon and Sunday. The conference was sponsored by Region 111 of the Boy Scouts of America, with William C. Wessel, national director of cubbing; Charles F. Smith, assistant national director of scout education; both from national headquarters at New York City, and Harry B. Nagel, deputy regional executive of Region 111 as instructors.

Among the things that were stressed at the conference was the need that exists for leadership among boys of sub age (9 to 12) before they are old enough to be scouts. This leadership must be provided by the parents of the boys.

The scout council is willing and anxious to provide the training course for the parents so that they will know what the plan and purpose of cubbing really is and help them get the cub pack organized and the cub dens started in the homes, but it is the responsibility of the Den Mothers, the Den Fathers and the Cub Masters to carry out the program as outlined by national headquarters.

There were nearly a hundred men and women present at the conference from nearly every scout council in Western Pennsylvania. The local representatives were quite well pleased with the training they received and are beginning at once to pay plans for a training course for fathers and mothers who are interested in working with boys of cub age and who are willing to give of their time to cubbing. The plans are definite as set up national headquarters, the requirements for organization are strict and rather than get started in the wrong direction the local council will not wish the parents of cub age to be as soon as sufficient leadership is volunteered by the parents the local council will take action towards putting on the training course.

The parents of Ellwood City who have boys of cub age or near cub age and who are really interested in learning about cubbing are requested to get in touch with either Green Mr. Bradley or Mr. Barrett. These men have literature available for distribution and an understanding of the cubbing movement. They are willing and anxious to meet with any one who are interested and discuss the matter with them.

Ellwood City needs cubbing. Boys of cub age are anxious to become scouts as is evidenced by the requests for a cub pack that have been received from the boys. The way to get started is for the boys to get the parents interested, the parents interest the church or organization that is sponsoring a scout troop, and if the sponsoring body wants cubbing they may have it.

Marie McDevitt To Wed In May

Engagement To Joseph LaMark Told At Charming Party

ELLWOOD CITY, April 11.—An announcement of the engagement of one of Ellwood City's most popular girls has been made and is that of Miss Marie McDevitt, of Wayne avenue, to Joseph LaMark, of Corapolis, son of Mrs. Mary LaMark, of Corapolis. The engagement will terminate in a May wedding.

The announcement was made at a delightful party held on Friday evening at a local tea room. Contract bridge played at eight tables held the attention of the group with lovely awards for high score going to Miss Irene Ross, of this city, Mrs. Thompson and Miss Rose LaMark, of Corapolis.

During the refreshment hour, the announcement was made in a clever manner with each guest's place being marked with a tiny wedding slipper to which the news of the engagement was attached. A period of excitement followed with all the guests extending their best wishes to Miss McDevitt. Bouquets of Joseph's centered the table.

Out-of-town guests attended the event from Pittsburgh, Sewickley, Corapolis, Beaver Falls and Youngstown.

For the past four years, the bride-elect has held a responsible position with the Davis Coke and Iron company, of Neville Island.

From the Masked Writer . . . contributor whose signature is Your Friend (The Masked Writer). Dear Sir: I don't expect that anyone will believe a dogmatic word of this letter but then you can never tell some one might . . . but don't send any letters to Judge Landis for I don't suppose he would believe in order the baseball season closed. However he may as well as I know just how the leagues are going to end and so therefore why go to all the trouble of playing all those games . . . the players are just going to use up a lot of energy that is not necessary at all . . . of course we want to see some of these games and for that reason maybe it is just as well that no one will believe me . . . so without further ado here goes . . . in the National, there is going to be a grand race between Chicago, Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Pittsburgh will do their usual fold up however, in about the middle of the season and thereby leave the rest up to the Cards and the Cubs with the Cards winning out in the home stretch . . . the Giants will not be in the race much at all but will take fourth place at the top . . . the rest will end the season like this . . . fifth place will go to Cincinnati, sixth to Boston, seventh to Brooklyn and eighth to Philadelphia . . . the leading pitcher will be the great Dizzy Dean with 27 wins . . . the leading hitter will be Arky Vaughn with a percentage of .375.

Masked Writer comments on the American circuit. The Yankees are going to find it tough sledding the whole way and are going to be beaten out of the first place position by the Detroit Tigers . . . Cleveland is going to make this race very interesting for a while but like the Pirates they will do their usual fold up about midway in the season . . . they will just have enough left to cop third place . . . the dark horse of the league will be Washington and take over fourth place . . . the rest ending like this . . . fifth place Chicago, sixth Boston, seventh Philadelphia, eighth St. Louis . . . the leading pitcher will be Allen of Cleveland.

Note to managers of teams . . . with the baseball season a few weeks away. The News sports department has decided to eliminate the practice of printing notices relative to practice sessions . . . the items are of little interest to the general public and take up space which can be used for sports items of interest to all . . . the Rambling Reporter urges all managers to take notice and to co-operate by not sending in such items during the baseball season . . . TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 11—Overstuffed Eddie Mead takes a pen in his puddy hand to refute the idea being bruited about that his Henney Armstrong is all washed up. Overstuffed Eddie and Hustling Henney are at Hot Springs, Ark. for a series of baths they figure will help them both. Mead plans to be down to 250 pounds ringside when he crawls into Armstrong's corner the night of May 26 to second Henney against Barney Ross. The fat man and the little Brown Bumper are determined to win that welter championship and then the lightweight, which with Henney's feather title, make three nice things to have resting on the mantle. Says the super-dreadnaught manager: "I don't think Barney Ross will be so hard for us. Henney may have more lovable beating. Ambers than he will with Barney. Ross has got a nice left hand, but he can't keep Henney away from him with it. One left hand is not enough, once Henney starts to come in."

Ross is a fighter who likes to trade punches once in a while, too. That's what we're counting on. If he'll stand up and punch with Henney, we'll like it fine. He'll have to, anyway. You know how Armstrong is.

"Some of the boys have been writing that Henney is worn out from too many fights. Well, he has been mighty busy, that's right, and his hands are a little sore and puffy from grinding up guys' chins. But his hands are as sound as a rock. He hasn't lost anything in the last six months that a couple of weeks rest and the baths won't give him back. He has been fighting a lot, but hasn't been doing any circus work. He has kept in shape by fighting. He'll be in great shape when we pull out of here."

The Ambers Style

"I don't look for much trouble from Ambers, either, though he may bother Henney for a while with that boucan style of his, lumping and jabbing and always on a bicycle coming someplace for a ride. The job for us will be to catch Ambers before we can beat him. But Henney can do that, too."

Armstrong looks fine. He was a little drawn, but he's filling out in great shape. Takes a bottle of ale with his dinner. He's crazy about the climate down here. Don't worry about Henney. He'll be better May 26 than he ever was in his life."

Is Ross Ready To Quit?

We weren't worrying about Henney, Mister Mead. It's our opinion that the Brown Bumper will recover rapidly from his recent relapse. And speaking about a relapse, Henney must be pretty fair when he can wallow around in that rine in the throes of a relapse and still manage to pole Lew Feldman over the garden wall in the stumpy heats. If that's being stale, Henney ought to be a right smart fighter when he sharpens up a little."

Another thought we are toying with is that Barney Ross has gone back a lot of way since the day when he stood off Tony Canzoneri with that piston-like left. We have played host to some wrong humburs but the feeling is prevalent in this corner that Barney is all through fighting and wants only an excuse to bow out of the ring picture.

HABITS OF THE CROW

The crow will eat almost anything. But the tidbits for which he hunts continuously are eggs and fledglings from other birds' nests. He also will rob a rabbit's hutch of the young, in addition to pouncing on a few mice and insects.

A Pair of Unusual Twins

The two sturdy colts foaled from the mare shown near Leesburg, Va., are unusual not only because the birth of equine twins is unusual (about one in ten thousand) but because, as a rule, one of the twins is much smaller than the other and usually dies a few days after foaling. But both of these young thoroughbreds are sturdy and soon will develop fine racing lines.

Art of casting . . . in four easy lessons

Bait Casting Simplified

Once he masters fundamentals, the average angler can become a proficient bait caster. And when he has learned to cast properly, his catches will be tripled.

Tony Accadia, professional bait and fly casting champion, offers some simplified instructions:

"First, aim the top of your rod at the target, your thumb lightly, but firmly, pressed against the line, reel turned so that the handle is at the top.

"Then bring the rod back straight over the shoulder and start the cast by a quick jerk of the forearm. Aim high, so that the plug will shoot forward and outward. Keep your elbow close to your side, remembering that action should come from the wrist and forearm, not from the shoulder.

"Keeping proper thumb pressure on the reel is of vital importance. Too much pressure shortens the cast and too little may cause a back-lash. When the rod is perpendicular, ease the thumb pressure."

Forward Twice as Fast

We like to sharpen our casting in the back yard, using a hookless plug at an old bike tire. An inner tube, anchored at a point, also makes a splendid target.

After setting our hooks into a bass or pike, we reel him in with three feet of the rod tip and slowly start a figure 8 with the tip two feet under water. A few moments of this and Mr. Fish rolls over on his side—an easy victim for the landing net.

Today's Tip

Good casters drop their plugs and spinners close to weed beds, lily stems, sunken logs and sand bars. The big bass, pike and trout usually lie in the best accessible places.

Keystone Reserves Win By 21-15 Count

Sunday afternoon on the Polish Falcon floor, the Keystone Reserves won a 21-15 decision over the Polish Falcon Reserves.

The Keys held a 10-5 lead at half-time. "Bis" Strausbaugh and Gallagher led for winners. Joe Kotolowski and Sotsek were the best bats for the losers.

Keystones Rout Polish Falcons

Beaver Valley League Champs Pile Up 43-19 Victory Sunday Afternoon

Bedazzling their opponents with a fine display of passing and shooting, the Keystone A. C. basketball team, champions of the Beaver Valley League, routed the Polish Falcons 43-19 Sunday afternoon, on the Polish Falcon hardwood. A large crowd watched the battle.

The Falcons grabbed the lead and held on to it during the early stages of the initial frame. However, the Keystone came on top 8-4. The Keystone scored on the basket and stepped out much and more, following to their lead 16-4 at half-time. By the end of the third chapter, the Keys were able to coast to victory. Captain Paul Morrison and Joe Kotolowski, both scoring honors, paced the accurate passing of Nickie Gensow, Nostra and Adams. Kotolowski was high man for the Miller Avenue club, carrying eight markers.

The score was:

Keystone A. C.	P. F. T.
Nostra	3 0 6
Gensow	3 0 6
Hudson	3 0 6
Cooper	3 0 6
Kotolowski	4 12
Morrison	3 11
Adams	3 0 6
Total	43 19

SEVEN LAST WORDS TOPIC OF PASTORS

Today the New Castle Ministerial association announces the order in which the speakers will be heard at the three-hour service on Good Friday at the First Methodist Episcopal church, corner of Jefferson and North streets, one of the three such services planned for the people of New Castle.

"Verily I say unto thee today shalt thou be with me in paradise"—Rev. F. J. South, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church.
"Woman, behold thy son!" Then saith He to the disciple, "Behold thy mother!"—Rev. D. L. Ferguson, D. D., pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church.
"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"—Rev. G. S. Bennett, D. D., pastor of the First Christian church.

"I thirst"—Rev. J. J. McIlwaine, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

"It is finished"—Rev. J. A. Cousins, D. D., pastor of the Croton avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

"Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit"—Rev. C. B. Winstead, Ph. D., pastor of the Central Presbyterian church.
Rev. William V. McLean of the First church will preside.

New Library Building Offers Fine Facilities For New Castle Public

Within the next few days, New Castle citizens will have one of the nicest, most beautiful and efficient libraries in this part of the state. The transformation of the old federal building on the corner of North and Mercer streets, from a post office to a library, has been almost a work of magic.

When the building was vacated by the Board of Trustees of the library, this was then remodeled under the direction of the W. G. Eckles company, architects for this purpose. The work of remodeling was done by the WPA under the direct supervision of Edward J. Games.

The building, built of Indiana limestone, is of excellent construction, measured 60x100 feet and has two stories above the ground floor. It has been admirably adapted to a library plan. Above the main entrance on North street, the words, "NEW CASTLE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY," are carved in the stone.

Ground Floor
From this entrance one goes into the main hall, with the charging desk to the right and the stack room with its many tiers of steel shelving directly in front. The hall is paneled with oak and floored with terrazzo. The dictionary catalog is also found in this hall. On the west or Mercer street side of the first floor is the reference room for study and research. This room has oak wall shelving, three tables, chairs, desk, dictionary stand and atlas stand.

On the east side of the first floor are periodical and reading rooms. These rooms are furnished with oak wall shelving, eleven tables, chairs, desk, newspaper files and magazine shelves.
In the reading room are hung two beautiful Longue paintings given to the library by Millard Greer, as a memorial to Mrs. Grace Marquis Greer. In this room also is the William McKean Brown collection of books.

"Electric Eye" Control
In the reading and periodical rooms the light is controlled by the photo-electric cell, popularly known as the "electric eye." This provides that light shall automatically be turned on when the natural light from outside falls below a certain candlepower.
The west or Mercer street entrance is the children's door and at its left is the stairway, of Vermont marble treads and wrought iron balustrade, leading to the children's room on the second floor. This room occupies the entire west end of the second floor and is furnished with small tables, chairs, charging desk, small desk, sloping top table for small readers, "big books," and a catalog cabinet.

To Second Floor
From the children's room a broad ramp with a short flight of steps at either end leads to the east end of the second floor. This part is occupied by the history room, librarian's office and a board and staff room. The history room is furnished with steel wall shelves, containing the local and state history reference books, genealogies; a table and chairs and two large cases of bound newspapers.

The librarian's office, contains an office desk, typewriter desk, chairs, shelves and steel files. Board meetings will be held in the board and staff room which also affords a place for the staff to relax at lunch hours. This room is furnished with several small tables, chairs, couch, lamps and a radio. The lamps and radio were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Simonton.

Basement Floor
On the ground, or basement floor, at the southeast corner of the building is the garden center devoted to the interest of garden clubs and containing books on gardening. Here is a large south window with a shelf built across for growing plants. The assembly room holds down the northeast corner and will be used for the children's story hour programs.

The furnace and coal rooms occupy the center and southwest corner of this floor. There are also three work rooms for the work of preparing new books for circulation and mending old ones. These rooms are lined with open shelves and closed cupboards for supplies.

All floors, except the main hall, are covered with battleship linoleum. A half-operated book lift, located in a shaft near the charging desk, serves all three floors. The modern indirect lighting is quite adequate and artistic, and adds a great deal to the appearance of interior.

Requirements In Conservation Must Be Met By Farmers

Those Taking Part In Conservation Movement Must Use Proper Materials

With various seedings and reseedings again included among the most important soil-building practices for which payments will be made under the 1938 agricultural conservation program, the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation committee carried out such practices under the program to make certain that they use the proper type of seed and comply with time and fertilizer requirements.

In carrying out practices for the establishment of new seedings of alfalfa, red or alsike clover, the committee points out, it is necessary to meet the required amount of hardy northern-grown domestic or Canadian seed.

In order to prevent any confusion regarding these practices and so that the farmer may be sure to qualify for credit for them, the committee urges that each participant get in touch with the county agricultural conservation office located at 427 Court street, so as to obtain complete information regarding these practices.
